

WE NOMINATE

Minor George Homrighausen, 64-year old clergyman, educator, author and lecturer, whose insights into the crucial issues confronting Christianity in the frenetic 1960's stamp him as one of the most perceptive statesmen of the Christian Church. A Princetonian since 1938, and this winter rounding out his first decade as Dean of Princeton Theological Seminary, the highly articulate Homrighausen in a recent New York City sermon and press interview caught the attention of thoughtful observers in declaring: the world, now "lashed with all the froth and frills," is moving away from "churchianity" and is returning to the fundamentals of religion.

Stirring memories of one of the late Dag Hammarskjöld's most-quoted adages, "In our era, the road to holiness necessarily passes through the world of action," Homrighausen feels that the church has reached a new plateau "in its awareness of the needs and demands" of a restless world. This awareness and growing sensitivity to the problems of civil rights and social action, Homrighausen contends, are transforming and strengthening schools of theology which are now seeking to bring together with religion such disciplines as psychology, science, philosophy, political theory and sociology.

Homrighausen, vice-president and senior member of the Borough of Princeton's Board of Education, which he has now served continuously since his appointment in 1944 to fill an unexpired term, is recognized as one of the stimulating teacher-speakers of his time. His travels year upon year take him to institutions in this country and overseas, ecumenical gatherings, community forums, teacher training conferences, ministers' institutes. Wherever he appears, and whatever his assignment, his techniques remain the same. His is essentially the Socratic method of teaching — a new dialogue in every paragraph — and opportunities for listeners to reach their own decisions on the ideas he is unfolding.

A native of Wheatland, Iowa, and a graduate of Wisconsin's Lakeland College, Homrighausen received his bachelor of theology here at the Seminary in 1924 and at age 21 was pastor of a Freeport, Ill., church. In 1929 he moved to Indianapolis—to the Carrollton Avenue Evangelical and Reformed Church, one of Indiana's largest—and four years later was "tapped" for his first international conference, the World Presbyterian Alliance in Belfast, Ireland, the kind of world-wide event that has long been an integral part of his every-year routine as the Seminary's Charles Rosenbury Erdman Professor of Pastoral Theology.

With interests ranging from the Princeton Y.M.C.A. to his responsibilities as a member of the board of founders of International Christian University, Tokyo, and as a trustee of Hood College, Frederick, Md., Homrighausen has literally "stumped" the globe for the past 20 years and has been in close touch with all segments of the Christian Church. Shortly after World War II, for instance, he was called to Europe as a consultant to the World Council of Churches Assembly and spent the better part of a year in Geneva, there organizing the Council's Department of Evangelism and subsequently handling trouble-shooting assignments on an around-the-world visit to churches and mission-stations.

For understanding that "only the highest order of imaginative faith and courageous commitment" can meet the challenges of the present; for constantly striving for greater unity of Christian thought and action; for placing the ideal of service far above out-worn conceptions of "self"; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

POST OFFICE ON AGENDA
For Planning Board. The question of a new post office for Princeton promises to be discussed frequently and probably with some heat, in the months ahead, and the next discussion will be Monday at 8 Road, Raymond Wehlaus, 379 Ewing; and John S. Mount, 118 Magnolia. Mr. Mount is the only one who does not live in the immediate area.

"Our opposition," says Mrs. Frank, "is based on our belief that, if this land is re-zoned 'commercial,' to accommodate a post-office it will be only the beginning of further encroachment on residential area and will only lead to further commercial blight."

At that time, the informal presentation made in December will be dressed up formally, at the Board's request, and laid before it for consideration.

The formal memo has been prepared by A. C. Reeves Hicks, attorney for M. L. Dodge, Inc., the corporation that owns the land where Federal authorities think a post office ought to be.

The land is across from the Princeton Shopping Center on North Harrison, just off the corner of Valley Road. The corner lot would remain vacant.

Some Are Opposed. Since December, an Ad Hoc Committee has formed, petitions have been signed and numerous neighbors have said "No" in strong tones. The Planning Board office has in file several petitions with a total of 94 signatures opposing the post office, another petition in which 17 of the 18 neighbors interviewed said they were opposed, and four individual letters from people who are opposed, two of them outside the area.

Members of the Ad Hoc Committee are Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Frank, 120 Valley Road; John F. Sly Jr., 404 Ewing; S. M. Slaby, 469 Ewing; George Finnelly, 214 Valley

Why, ITS LBJ? Elmer W. Engstrom, president of RCA, receives from President Johnson the Chief Executive's best wishes for the success of the 1965 U. S. Industrial Payroll Savings Bond drive. Mr. Engstrom is Savings Committee Chairman of the drive. Douglas Dillon (far right) secretary of the Treasury, appointed Dr. Engstrom, who succeeds Frank K. Stihken (front center). Behind Mr. Stihken is A.J.W. Leblen, vice-president of Eli Lilly & Co., whose president is a Savings Committee member.

"mess," she stated when she signed the petition, indicating that she though a new post office would be a welcome improvement.

Chamber Says Yes. R. L. Lohrman, who served as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee that worked for a new post office, plans to attend Monday night's meeting.

"What gets lost in all this discussion," he says, "is that the real beneficiary of the new post office will be the average mail user. You can't park now in Palmer Square to go to the post-office, but a new building on North Harrison would have customer parking space, and much more convenience for everybody."

In the December presentation, Arthur J. Parson, real estate officers for the post office department, told the Planning Board that the new building would be surrounded with about 20 parking spaces. The Traffic Safety Committee of the Township found this number "grossly inadequate" for the public and the post office's 120 employees, and Frank Quinby, Township engineer, has said that the Township doesn't have enough room for off-street parking.

Mr. Parson said that, however, that the post office department is always flexible on the subject of parking, and could expand here and trim there in an effort to satisfy Township demands.

Trucks & Cars. Traffic is another problem. Mr. Parson assured the Planning Board in December that there would be no trucking after 7 p.m. and before 4 a.m.—no "night" trucking, in short. However, as one resident points out, to a

In Order To Serve You Better

Now, for the second year, we are providing you — our customers — with a detailed service for tax deductible drugs. This free tax record service is TIP — Tax Information Plan.

Here is how TIP works. Each time you make a purchase at The Thorne Pharmacy any part of that purchase which is deductible under Federal law is noted in a separate column on your receipt.

Receipts will be itemized on your TIP statement. You will see a gray column listing all your tax deductible purchases, and a running total of deductibility to date in the lower right hand corner. Enclosed with your TIP statement will be the individual receipts. It is vital that you keep these receipts with your other tax records. They are your legal proof that the purchases were made.

In January, 1966, you will receive a TIP final statement showing every deductible purchase you made during 1965.

Not only does TIP help at income tax time, but it is equally important should you ever have a claim under a medical insurance program.

Won't you let us serve you better by taking advantage of our Tax Information Plan?

About 13 trucks go out now from the University Place area, and proponents of the new post office, including Mr. Leinhardt, do not regard this as an excessive number. The annex would be abandoned if the new post office building were erected and all its functions moved to North Harrison.

Traffic count figures made two or three years ago have been assembled by the Planning Board by Mr. Quisby, but he says he plans to make a new study next summer.

The North Harrison location was selected by Federal officials after a survey of several different parcels. The Shopping Center itself was considered, but the owner rejected the proposal. No agreement could be reached with Research Park, even after talks on Harrison, and the Township did not want the new building near Township Hall, and the two schools that are near by.

SCHOOLS ARE TARGET
Of Five Bomb Scares. In Pennington, the cry of "ban the bomb" has been extended to "ban the bomb scare."

On five separate occasions last week, school classes were disrupted by phone calls reporting the presence of bombs in the schools. School officials said Tuesday that there have been no further incidents since then.

Some 475 students at the Pennington Grammar School, N. Main Street, and 280 children attending the Primary School, Broad and Academy Streets, were evacuated Friday when two bomb scare calls were received.

Volunteer firemen and members of the town squad stood by outside the Grammar School at 10:30 a.m., 30 minutes before the first call. It had reported that a bomb would go off. School officials, State Police and Pennington Chief of Police James Delle Mott, meanwhile, searched the school without success. During the search, the students had been moved two blocks up the street to the Junior School or across the street to the Episcopal Church.

Children from the Primary School were transferred to the nearby Methodist Church shortly before 1 p.m., following a call that there was a bomb inside the school.

Three bomb calls were received Thursday but two of them occurred after school hours. That evening Mrs. Marian Griggs, secretary to the Township Superintendent of Schools, received a call that a bomb had been placed in all of the system's seven schools. However, Township police searched all the schools, again without finding anything.

Rhodes Scholarship has now become Attorney General of the United States.

He is 43-year-old Nicholas D. Katzenbach, who is a student at F.D.C. in the late 1930s before going to Exeter and Princeton. His mother, Mrs. Edward L. Katzenbach, who retired recently as chairman of the New Jersey State Board of Education, lives at 31 Stanwold Lane.

Mr. Katzenbach had served as Acting Attorney General since the resignation last fall of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. There had been frequent speculation since that time whether President Johnson would follow Sen. Kennedy's suggestion that Mr. Katzenbach be named to the position, but it was not until last week that the President made the announcement.

Mr. Katzenbach first came into national prominence when he directed the Federal marshals during the riots which resulted from Negro James Meredith's enrollment at the University of Mississippi. Later, he upheld civil rights legislation when Alabama Governor George Wallace sought unsuccessfully to prevent the admission of two Negroes at the University of Alabama.

A continued campaign to further the cause of civil rights—"occasionally through lawsuits"—was proclaimed last week by Mr. Katzenbach following his nomination. He is also known to be a strong advocate of "justice for the poor," a specific function of the Justice Department which will provide lawyers for those without adequate financial means "to demonstrate that the law is not an enemy, but a guardian."

TOPICS Of The Town

RIVERSIDE APARTMENTS?

Maybe. A proposal for 32 garden apartment units abutting Riverside Drive was spread out on Tuesday before members of the Borough Planning Board. The apartments would be built on one lot of the L-shaped piece of land that starts at the corner of Nassau and Riverside, goes down Riverside and then turns west, running parallel to Robert Road.

The apartments would be built on the three-acre strip that parallels Robert Road with a buffer of landscaping to separate them from the back yards of the houses now on Robert.

Along Riverside, there would be four one- or two-bedroom units, and five would be four one- or two-bedroom units on the eight-acre strip that ends at Nassau. This L-shaped plot once belonged to the First National Bank, whose directors hoped to build a branch bank on it. When their proposal was rejected by the Borough, they sold the plot to Benedict Yedin, and it is his apartment project that is now before the Planning Board. Hans K. Sander is the architect.

Mr. Yedin needs a land use variance because his parcel is in the R-2 residential zone, second strictest of all borough residential zones.

He would like to build 20 one-bedroom units of 620 square feet each (approximate).

residential. $160 monthly; eight two-bedroom units (some with fireplace, rental unspecified) and four two-bedroom duplex apartments of 1,440 square feet (approximate rental $250). All units would be two-story.

Mr. Sander has so designed the cluster that different kinds of apartments would be mixed in together, the whole complex broken into small buildings with private interior courts. There would be parking for 43 cars.

One part of the plan calls for a single access road entering from Riverside and ending in a cul de sac.

A road wide enough to be taken over by the Borough as a public thoroughfare. An alternate plan has two narrow roads, one along each edge of the apartment strip. These would remain private access roads.

The Board acted Tuesday on two measures sent around from Thursday night's meeting of the Zoning Board. The University's Astro Physics Science Building was given a favorable recommendation and the Nassau-Witherspoon Trail was given an approving nod. There was no legal need to refer the bus terminal question to the Planning Board, but the Zoning Board just wanted comments.

United Fund President Robert P. Popino and Gerald Hank, chairman of the Princeton Red Cross chapter, expressed gratitude to Mr. Barenholtz and to all volunteers and donors for their support of the member agencies.

WHERE TO PARK?

Leigh Residents Wounder. Would the purchase of a corner off-street parking lot help residents of Leigh Avenue who have no place to park?

A lot on the corner of John and Birch was suggested Monday night to Township Committee by Township engineer Frank Quinby as a possible solution to the area's parking worries. The dilemma had been brought before Township Committee last month by Turner Stephens, 37 Leigh Avenue, who said that some home owners couldn't park in front of their own homes, and that narrow lots made construction of driveways impossible in most cases.

Mr. Quinby said the Township would have to pay about $3,000 to improve the lot, in addition to its purchase price. It will hold about a dozen cars, Mr. Quinby said.

The recommendation was tabled for study.

Committee agreed with Mayor Carl C. Schaefer that the Township should apply for state funds to buy parcels of land totaling about 170 acres of Open Space. The land was added last month to the Township's "Open Space" plan.

Ruth and Ronald Starr have been granted the liquor license formerly belonging to Felix Cernia of the White Horse Tavern, Leigh Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Starr will change the name to the Starr Inn.

BUS VOTE DEFERRED

One Month by Zoning Board. Suburban Transit Inc. must wait another month before it finds out whether the Borough Zoning Board will grant its request for a special permit to continue in operation its newly-opened passenger terminal at the corner of Witherspoon and Nassau Street. A second request by Suburban to install a non-illuminated sign on the Witherspoon Street side of the terminal was also deferred by the Board until its February meeting.

Princeton University's announced intention to seek a special permit to erect a new astrophysics building on land located between the main entrance of Palmer Stadium and Ivy Lane was not considered by the Board, because there are three existing buildings on the plot in question, the application was first referred to the Planning Board. Favorable action on this and the bus terminal were taken at—Continued on Page 4.

Today's meeting of the Princeton Board.

In its only action, the Board last Thursday granted a side yard variance to Joseph Guadagno, 189 Witherspoon Street, giving him permission to install a barber shop in the first floor of the two-story building Mr. Guadagno owns at the Witherspoon address. Purchased by Mr. Guadagno in 1953, the building stands in the newly-zoned B-3 district on Witherspoon Street.

MOTHER, DAUGHTER HURT

In Route 206 Crash. Mrs. E. Claire Sanner, 54, and her 22-year-old daughter, Janice, both of Bay Road, Belle Mead, were injured Sunday shortly after noon when their car was involved in a two-car accident at the intersection of Route 206 and Cherry Hill Road.

Mrs. Sanner was admitted to Princeton Hospital for treatment of a fractured vertebrae and for head lacerations, which required 22 sutures to close. Her condition was listed as fair. Miss Sanner was released.

Not Underfoot

Ice is gone beneath a skate.

Carnegie Lake has plenty of it, and it's fine for skating. But so have embankments and the gutters and numerous other places where no skaters should tread daily.

A colder than normal January is here, with temperatures and more snow than any first month of the year since 1961.

For the immediate future, more cold but little if any snow. The skaters have to cheer.

After being treated for injuries to her mouth and teeth, both were wearing casts at the time, according to the investigating officer.

According to the police report, the mishap occurred when Mrs. Sanner, driving north on Route 206, ran into the side of a car driven by Mrs. Nina G. Elson, 50, of 10 Colonial Avenue, Princeton Junction. Mrs. Elson was uninjured.

Police quoted Mrs. Elson as saying she stopped for the stop sign at Cherry Hill Road, looked both ways, and proceeded to cross Route 206. She said she did not see the Sanner car until just before it struck her. P.I. John Harmond ticketed Mrs. Elson for failure to yield at a stop sign.

Earlier the same day, at 2:40 p.m., George H. Wood III, 21, 714 Prospect Avenue E.S., was charged with careless driving when his car went out of control on Riverside Drive and crashed into a parked car. Mr. Wood was not injured.

Police said Mr. Wood first hit and damaged a small tree on the property at 273 Riverside Drive W., crossed off and struck the rear of a 1963 Elton wagon in a driveway.

belonging to Joel L. Feldman, 22, of Norfolk, Va. There were 200 feet of car marking leading to the tree, police said. He may have lost control.

Mr. Wood told police, because of a blowout of his left rear tire. The entire left side of his car was damaged.

Two Drivers, Three Tickets. A collision between a van, truck and a car Friday afternoon at 4 at the intersection of Harrison Street and Patton Avenue resulted in three summonses.

P.I. Donald Forward charged C. W. Varnage, 23, 140 Wallace Road, Princeton Junction, driver of the truck, with driving without a license and failing to yield to a stop sign.

Johnna Brenner, 21, 403-A Butler Avenue, whose license bore a Portland, Ore. address, was charged with failing to notify the Motor Vehicle Department of a change of address.

According to police, Mr. Marang pulled in front of Mrs. Brenner who was traveling on Harrison, a through street. There were no injuries, but the front end of Mrs. Brenner's car was extensively damaged.

Route 1 near Trenton Monday afternoon was the scene of a collision involving a beer truck and a car driven by Mrs. Peggy L. Bayer, 41, of 610 Snowden Lane. Mrs. Bayer and her 14-year-old son, Robert, were treated at Helene Fuld Hospital for lacerations and contusions.

Police charged the driver of the truck with making an improper turn. Mrs. Bayer was ticketed for failure to have her license and registration in her possession.

WOMAN'S PURSE GRABBED

On University Place, Borough police, who had only one case of purse-snatching in 1964, found themselves confronted with another last week.

Evelyn A. Towne, 56, who lives and works at the Princeton Inn, told police a youth about 15 or 16 wearing dark jeans, 200 feet of car marking leading to the tree, police said. He may have lost control.

The youth then ran across the street, according to Mrs. Towne, and jumped into a waiting car which was driven by an accomplice. She said her purse contained 65 cents in change and personal papers.

Cartier Theatre, is warm, tender and old-fashioned, full of good heart and laughter and much too guileless to survive, we predict, against the Broadway wolves, although the same New York audiences that loved "Never Too Late" will probably love it."

Bill Naughton saw his comedy hailed as "Best play of the '60s" in England in 1962, and British audiences, as they say, took the play to their hearts.

"All in Good Time" is about the working-class Filton family, whom we first meet at the wedding party of their son, Arthur and his Violet.

The party is held in the homey dining-sitting room of the Filtons' house in the north of England, and it's a wonderful family party with a little too much ale and some hearty dancing, but a lot of the green - ribbing that always goes on at wedding receptions.

He is old man Filton, the gas-fitter, played by Sir Donald Wolfit. He's full of ale and high spirits and boasts that he has never held a book in his hand all his life. Not like his son, Arthur, who's quietly reading in a corner at his own wedding reception! Old Filton is a good man at the gas plant, but a bit thick in the head sometimes, and early in the second act, three people try to tell him what the audience knows already: that the marriage of Arthur and Violet "won't jelled yet." That is, "they haven't really got started," and so on until Filton's patient wife finally tells him straight out that poor Arthur is so worried, tense, upset and unhappy that he has simply frozen, and his Violet, married for six weeks, is still a virgin.

And that's the play. All of it. Except for a dark thought about old Filton's best friend, Billy — and what was his actual

Understudy for the Set
Ever hear of an understudy set? McCarter's Gill Henneley stepped before the curtain at the opening performance of "All in Good Time" to announce that the set would have an understudy.

The British set for this British comedy is marooned off Baltimore by the longshoremen's strike, and McCarter put together a two-level set from its own attic of props and beds and kitchen chairs.

Fortunately, the living room of the Filton family is supposed to be an odd and ends kind of room, and all we can say is, it looked just right.

role in the Filton family, anyway? "We're never quite sure — the entire play revolves around Henry's Arthur's slight."

It's a predicament that has been the subject of ribald laughter for thousands of years, of course, and it draws the laughter again in this play, but the joke wears a little thin after three hours.

Not that we don't feel sorry for young Arthur. He and Violet have spent every moment since their wedding in the dingy house with his mother, father and two brothers, a house smaller than anything seen on stage outside "Tiny Alice."

Fumes from the tannery waft into the bedroom window. The trains thunder by. Partitions are so thin that Arthur and Violet can hear old man Filton gruffing around in the dark searching for the chamber pot under his bed, and as if that weren't bad enough, Violet thinks it's funny and starts to giggle.

Besides, Arthur wants desperately to be a policeman, but looks half an inch of the required height. And he expects married life to be a combination of Beethoven, Mozart and literature, but Violet likes the Beatles and ate stinging. Not only that, his father has challenged him to a test of physical strength at

ALL'S FAIR: James Garner and Julie Andrews star in a savage comedy about the fancy of war in "The Americanization of Emily," now at the Playhouse and the Prince.

News Of The Theatres
 the wedding reception and beaten him, right in front of his bride. Well!
 But it's such a warm play and the laughter is so gentle that you know everything will work out and that, all in good time, something will indeed happen on that bed on the second stage level and Arthur will indeed grow that hair-inch in stature.

"All in Good Time" needs calling loudly, not because it's long too, simply because a single-situation comedy has to be as trim as possible. Noughton has a wonderful ear for working-class speech and his lines kept the opening night audience in constant laughter. But the blue pencil is needed. The cast is superb. What a treat it is to watch a company of actors trained in the British tradition of stage craftsmanship. Not a trace to be heard of the aliphoid or the mongrel (lessional).

Sir Donald, of course, is matshless, with a grin. North Country speech hiding the tradition heart of gold. Who do you think provided the money when Arthur and Violet finally find a little cottage of their own?

His wife is Marjorie Rhodes, an earth mother with a brain (unique, and an good an actress that you forget she is acting. These two are the best, with out question, but Brian Murray makes Arthur's anguished, beleivable and poignant, and if Alexandra Berlin's Violet seems a bit like a wooden doll, perhaps that's the way Mr. Noughton wanted her to be. After all, she does assure him that she doesn't really care if "it" never happens at all.

Minor roles are filled with equal competence — that's one of the joys of the British tradition.

 It was pleasant to see Broadway before Broadway did, and Princeton audiences can only be grateful to McCarter. Let's have another.

OLD FRIENDS AND NEW
 In "Rivals" East, The familiar faces of Emory Battin, James Tripp, Clarence Felder and Rudy Holbrook will greet McCarter audiences when Sheridan's "The Rivals" opens in the winter-spring drama series in on February 20.

Mr. Battin will play Sir Anthony Absolute in the 18th century comedy, and James Tripp will be Captain Absolut. Clarence Felder will be Sir Lucius O'Viviger and Mrs. Holbrook will be Mrs. Malaprop, of great fame.
 Ronnie Claire Edwards and Barbara Caruso, who played McCarter in the spring of 1963, have returned to portray Julia Melville and Lydia Langbush.
 Then, the newcomers: Mac, Larry Diven has been cast as Bob Acres, the country-bumpkin, and Saunders Macdonald as Lacey, a scheming maid. Mr. Dixon and Miss Macdonald are man and wife. David Little, Gregory Alesi and Mario Siletti will also be in the cast, and Mr. Siletti, of course, is the director as well.

THE DITCHCOCK TOUCH
 In Retrospect . . . Starting with "The Lady Vanishes," McCarter will glance retrospectively at Alfred Hitchcock during the spring half of the 1964-65 Classic Film Series. "The Lady Vanishes" will be shown on Tuesday at 8, to be followed in subsequent weeks by the original version of "The 39 Steps," "Suspicion," "Notorious," "Vertigo" and "North by Northwest."

IT'S NEW To Us

WE'VE MOVED

Beatty Salon Expands. Adjusting the beauty patch on the left cheek and patting the powdered wig, 18th Century Beauty Salon announced this week that it has moved to larger quarters at State Road where the Bob Lang appliance shop used to be. Eighteenth — Century, of course, is just the name; that is, the modern shop could imagine, with a staff of six and two more coming along soon to give you the most advanced care and styling for your hair.

Mr. Charles, who owns 10th Century and is styling hair in Princeton for 11 years and has had his shop for six.

"The secret is in the cut," he states, "no hair can possibly look as it should without the basis of a good cut; otherwise, it will always be in disarray."

Here in the new shop, Mr. Charles, Mr. Lee and their associates have three times as much room as before. In a shop combining blue and gold for lightness and elegance and walnut for warmth, they work at six different stations, plus a dye room.

Stations are set apart from each other by partitions of rippled glass for privacy, and the dye room has walnut shutters to add even more seclusion.

Air-conditioned dryers keep you cool while you're getting dry, and you can read or knit without a worry in the world because your car is parked outside in a meter-less paradise.

Catting, as we've said, is Mr. Charles' specialty, but everyone on the staff is qualified in every aspect of the hair-dresser's craft. Mr. Lee, a leading stylist, has worked throughout Europe and the country, and has spent three years with Charles of the Ritz. Miss Inge, known to Princeton women for her skills, is also on the staff.

10th Century is open every day and Thursday evenings until 9. Cuts are $2.75, shampoo and set, $3.50. Permanent are all by Breck, starting at $15.

On the shelves, Mr. Charles has the products of L'Oréal of Paris, Revlon, Monique and, of course, Breck.

BRIGHTEN THE BELOW
Remodel That Basement. Or, if you haven't got one, enclose the porch and pick up the extra room your family needs without spending a lot of extra money.

The Building Center, Princeton Junction, points with pride to its basement and porch work, and reminds all home-owners that it's a lot cheaper to panel and enclose than to build a whole new room.

"The basement is the biggest unused part of your house," says Samuel Pillsbury, the Building Center man, "the whole structure is already there, often enough built so that you don't have to extend your heating system. You can make a room at a fraction of the amount it would cost you to build a wing."

Mr. Pillsbury recommends acoustical ceiling tile, or a suspended ceiling which hides the pipes and permits flush lighting. Free-finished paneling in birch or light mahogany makes a comfortable look, and you can even insulate behind the paneling, although a basement is already semi-insulated by being below ground and surrounded by the house.

Cost? As low as $500, or up to $2,000. You may want to finish the whole basement, and partition it off into work room (cheaper perforated metal), dining room (perhaps), study, den, sewing — laundry room. Or you may require only a single little room.

If you have a screened porch, you can enclose it into year-round space with jalousie windows, double — hung windows or modern sliding ones. Armstrong vinyl flooring and ceiling tile make the bottom and the top.

Garages can be converted, too, and if they are part of the house, as they are with most, split-levels, it's almost as easy as doing a basement.

Service is the big thing at the Building Center. Whether you "do it yourself" or get expert help, the Center will guide you.

But Carnevale, of the Building Center staff, has had more than ten years' experience in construction, and he can show you how. If you want to do your own, or he will get the whole job done for you. Financing can be arranged, of course, one to five years, up to $7,000 with bank rates.

Browsing around the Center is great fun — you'll want to open up that dark kitchen by installing a Plexiglas Skydome skylight. You'll examine all the designs in the pierced masonite "Panelaire" series it can be painted, you know — easy as rolling a roller in the paint) and wait'll you see the pre-finished paneling!

Here, on display racks, are about 20 different panelings, including the sumptuous pecan with its five-inch wainscot strip, and Chateau Paneling's "Rustic Pecan," so beautifully textured that it can take all kinds of wear and just look mellowed with time. "Chateau Paneling" has deeper groovings than standard pre-finishes, and a richer, more realistic appearance. The knotty pine, for example, is the only knotty pine paneling we've seen that isn't brañly yellow. Take a look: you'll

ROY & FROY

The teenagers' favorite psychiatrist, has dressed himself in red for Valentine's Day and has even brought along his big brother.

Roy, a regular inhabitant of The Country Mouse, is that blob of long-haired orlon with the shaggy-haired eyes. He's about big enough to fit into your palm, if that's the kind of thing — and we use the word advisedly — you like to hold in your palm.

Big Brother Froy is a giant about 12 inches across, like a sort of footstool, and he costs $13, if you can believe it. Both Froys are bright red — for my Valentine.

Panel every room in the house!

"KISS ME QUICK!"

While the Commereals' "Do" so reads the red label button attached to a jaunty little Valentine at The Country Mouse. Another label button says "Let Me Call You Sweetheart, I Can't Remember Your Name," and that's our real favorite.

Biggest Valentine of the lot is 18 inches long and a dollar, and there are about a dozen different styles, but we think you'll pick the one with a row of cut-out paper dolls.

As in former years, Country Mouse has real old-fashioned Valentines; not reproductions, but the actual antiques themselves. Antiques? Well, one

TO HOLD WORKSHOP

Siletti in Charge. Between directing chores for McCarter's "The Rivkah" Mario Siletti will conduct a 10-week actors' workshop under the sponsorship of Princeton Community Players.

The workshop, scheduled to start February 15, will be devoted to acting technique and scene study. It will be open to the first 30 people who register, and registration can be accomplished by calling Sylvia Fontijn, 921-2573.

Mr. Siletti has appeared both on-and-off Broadway, and has been known in Princeton for the past ten years, directing for and acting in plays produced by Community Players, University Players and McCarter.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE

The Americanization of Emilly (through Tuesday). Beneath the hilarity in this satire are some bitterly satirical comments on war and certain American institutions. Paddy Chayefsky wrote the screenplay, based on the novel by William B. Huie.

Julie Andrews plays the part of a war widow who meets up with a practicing coward, James Garner a man content to sit out World War II in London as an admiral's flunky. The old admiral, Melvyn Douglas, conceives the idea for Garner to make a film about the navy that will so impress Congress that it will immediately vote larger appropriations. The film is an enactment-before the event-of the landing of naval engineers on Omaha Beach on D-Day. Somehow Garner gets pushed into it.

There are a number of funny sequences. Some of the dialogue and situations are farcical, as the principals make the most out of life in wartime. The ending is one more irony in a string of them.

GARDEN

The Outrage (through Tuesday) is an Americanization of Kira Kurosawa's Japanese-language "Rashomon," which won the top award in Venice in 1950. Paul Newman, Laurence Harvey, Claire Bloom and Edward G. Robinson head the impressive cast.

The story rests on the differing accounts given by witnesses to a rape. Paul Newman, in his flamboyant role as the Mexican outlaw whose rape of a married woman sets the dramatic wheels turning, delivers a fine performance. The rest of the cast add lustre to the drama.

There is a rather baffling switch from stark drama to wild slapstick in the stories of the two characters which makes the ending rather implausible.

It's New To Us

hitchy comes from the 20's and is done in John Held style with the legend, "Gosh, kid, you got me reeling." (Anybody remember John Held?)

The one that says "your hubby isn't good enough to tie your shoe," comes from "your hubby himself." Then there are the really old postcards with gold and red hearts, and if you don't think they are really old, look on the back: "place one-cent stamp here," it says.

Imported "Decorates" are either the original old ones ($2.50) or reproductions ($1.50). These are the individual decorating items — the gold angels and arrows, slightly tarnished in the genuine old package, the puffy red hearts, the angelic cupids, the curly headed seraphs.

Penny Valentines are slightly inflated: 29 for 30 cents, but you get 43 for 35 cents, so it works out all right.

Handmade has outdone itself with the $123 home decoration kit full of gold tinsel, red and red brocade hearts, and a one dollar red satin book contains love poems by Shelley, Shakespeare and Marlowe.

And if you're really sentimental, here's red sealing wax and a seal that's two twin hearts. Two hearts and an arrow make a pin for a girl's bow dress, and the circle pin (favorite has been bent into heart shape...) just for you.

PROTEINS
AND YOUR SKIN

It has long been known by scientists, bio-chemists and dermatologists that the skin is composed of 97% Protein. The balance is made up of Lipids, Lipids, Phospholipids, Sterols and Lanolin Esters.

Cosmetic formulations, however, have, from the beginning, been formulated on the premise of oils (lipids). Lipids, Lanolin and Lanolin Esters, common sense will point up the fact that the skin contains only a very minute quantity of ANY oil. Therefore the belief that oils are going to have some miraculous and magic effect on the skin can be seen to be merely a product of the no basis of fact whatsoever. The assumption that cosmetic creams (all containing oils) will FEED the skin are in error of the scientific facts. The assertion that creams penetrate the skin are not true literally, but the term "penetrates" has become a part of all cosmetic advertising since it best expresses the public's conception of a cosmetic cream to be continued next week.)

Topics Of The Town

Chief Peter J. McCrohan added that Mrs. Towne was so excited at the time that he was unable to give the police a clear description of the youth or the car.

On Saturday, John A. Archer, owner of the all-night coin laundromat at 12 Witherspoon Street, reported someone entered a rear window, taking a number of new shirts. Mr. Archer, police said, estimated six boxes containing four shirts each were taken.

The manager of PT's Pancake House, 154 Nassau Street, reported Friday that approximately $50 in cash had been taken from an office located in the cellar. Police said entry had been gained through a cellar window. P.D. Theodore Lewis is investigating.

Last Tuesday, police received reports that a cigarette machine in the first floor coke room of the Tiger Inn, Prospect Avenue, had been rifled, and that a fourth floor apartment, located at 44 Nassau Street had been ransacked. The occupant, Harry Hurvitz, told police the door had been locked. Missing, he said, were a dish containing about 25 pennies, an electric razor and a metal cash box containing only personal papers. Detective Robert B. McAvonia is investigating.

Township Police revealed that the home of Edward Conlin, Princeton - Lawrenceville Road, was raided sometime between January 11 and February 1, the date when they received the report. The burglar, in the bedrooms, and the den had been ransacked. So far, the Conlins have been able to ascertain that a portable TV set, a clock radio and a $20 bill are missing. Detective Walter Servis is investigating. He reported finding no visible footprints around the house.

TWO FIRES EXTINGUISHED

By Borough Police. Two fires were quelled by the Borough Police last week with extinguishers from their patrol cars.

Monday morning at 10, the contents of a garbage truck owned by Benny Brown caught fire on Springdale Road. The fire itself was sizeable but there was no damage to the truck, according to Chief Peter J. McCrohan.

Last Wednesday shortly after noon, a garbage bag under a sink caught fire in the apartment of Leslie Edwards, Jr., 253 Nassau Street. Police said some linoleum around the sink was burned before the fire was capped. The apartment is located in the Turney Motor building.

MAN OVERCOME

By Car Fumes. A Hopewell man narrowly escaped death Saturday when he was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes while working on his car in a garage.

Benjamin Taormina, 23, 39 Taylor Terrace, was taken to Princeton Hospital by the Hopewell First Aid Squad ambulance after his wife, Patricia, discovered him in the garage. Mr. Taormina was released from the Hospital on Sunday.

HOW'S YOUR TASTE?

Burgandy? Bordeaux? Guests who attend the Princeton Symphony benefit wine tasting on Saturday, February 13, from 5 to 8, will be given two wine glasses, a brochure of notes and suggested order of tasting designed to demonstrate the differences within the two wine-growing districts. There will also be ice water, crackers to clear the palate and cheese. A fine California wine of each type will also be available for comparison.

The Wine Selection Committee has chosen wines that are ready to drink now, regardless of age, wines that represent different types and qualities for each region, and

SLATE GAINS VICTORY

In School Board Election,
The Sound Education-Reasonable Cost slate won an unexpectedly lopsided victory Tuesday when it placed seven of its members on the nine-seat
Hopewell Township Regional School Board. The newlyformed board will assume office on July 1.

Two of the seats were uncontested. Philip Alampi was unopposed for the three-year term from Hopewell Township. He received 1000 votes. Mr. Alampi, 32-year-old State Department of Agriculture secretary, was recognized as the leader of the slate which said it was concerned with rising school costs and mounting administrative salaries.

Swept into office by the tide
of state votes from Hopewell Township were Randolph H.
Herzog, whose 914 gained him
a two-year seat, and the following who captured one-year seats: Robert E. Kinney (662), Lester A. Abbott (720), and James E. Johnson (730). Mr.
Kinney and Mr. Alampi were members of the former board.

In Pennington Borough, it was the same story. Slate candidates John A. Meyers and Gerald Silphant won easily.
Mr. Silphant (416) defeated
Dr. James C. Miller (227) for a three-year seat, and Mr. Meyers (389) defeated Howard F.
Thurman (232) for a two-year term. Both losers were members of the former board.

In Hopewell Borough, 65
voted for Richard G. Van Doren, who was unopposed for that district's lone seat. Mr.
Van Doren was elected to a three-year term.

Write-In Fails. J. Marvin
Van Hise was the lone slate candidate who failed to be elected, and he lost because he was a write-in candidate.
He was a write-in, running for a two-year seat from the Township, polled 347 votes. In addition, he received 77 votes for a three-year term, and 105 for a one-year term. The latter two were not counted.

The second two-year seat in the Township was captured by John F. Cortright with 500 votes. He thus became with Mr. Van Doren the only nominated member. Close behind was Robert M. Applebaum with 492. Both were incumbents of the last board.

Defeated for one-year seats

HIS SIDE WON: Philip Alam-pi, head of a slate faction, led a sweeping school board election for his side.

from the Township were Malcolm G. Mager (490), Thomas Kinney (480), both members of the previous school board, and Christian P. Hansen, 324.

Likely to be swept aside,
too, is School Superintendent
James C. Sandilos. Under law,
Mr. Sandilos loses his tenure July 1, and the slate, among other things, had objected to the size of Sandilos' salary which it said had risen 123 percent since 1959, the year San-dilos came to Hopewell Township. Sandilos currently is receiving $17,710.

The write-in candidacy of Mr. Van Hise created valing jams in all of the Township six districts. The Township director, for example, did not cast his last vote until ten minutes before midnight. Polls were scheduled to close at 8 p.m.

NOMINATIONS MADE
For Hospital Board. The nominating committee of the Princeton Hospital Corporation has endorsed for re-election
the five trustees whose terms are expiring.

Up for re-election are
George W. Taylor, Jr., and John C.
Whitwell. President Laurence C. Ward
Jr., James H. Hill, Dr. Aime C.
McGuinness, and John C.
Whitwell.

Other nominations by Corporation members may be made until February 6. Only members of the Hospital Corporation are eligible to serve as trustees. The vote will be held at the annual meeting on February 22.

at plans and placement at Mt. Holyoke at the all-day seminar on job opportunities for college women to be held Saturday, February 13, at Community Park School.

Alumnac club affiliated with the Seven College Conference are sponsors of the program. Registration should be made by this Saturday with Mrs. Howard Fox, 6 Nevins Road.

Miss Matthews' talk will open the program at 11. After a 12:30 lunch, job-opportunity workshops will be held until 3:30, scheduled so that each person attending will participate in two workshops.

The workshops will consider press and publishing, research, library work, education, manufacturing, social work, business and administration and volunteer work which requires a specially trained personnel.

Arrangements have been made by president of the sponsoring clubs: Mrs. George F. Thomas, Mt. Holyoke; Mrs.
Henry Brad, Wellesley; Mrs.
Ellwood W. Godfrey, Smith;
Mrs. Robert F. Pfeiffer, Vassar;
Mrs. Ernest A. Lynton, Bryn Mawr and Mrs. John W. Tucker, Radcliffe. Barnard, seventh college in the conference, has no Princeton area clubs.

COIN CURBS GOING OUT

what every woman
should know about Bio-Wave

The Bio-Wave Permanent is an entirely new concept in permanent waving, based in the catalytic action of enzymes. Hair never becomes frizzy, brittle and dry, but possesses a uniformly soft,
neatly appearance with amazing body and texture.
The wave is non-explosive, non-toxic, non-sensitizing. Bio-Wave will make a perfect wave that will

MALE ON LEAVE

To Teach, Write, Raymond F. Male, 70 Cedar Lane, former mayor of the Borough, and now New Jersey Commissioner of Labor and Industry, has given a six-months' leave of absence from his cabinet duties.

He will, however, remain as Commissioner, working at the $20,000-a-year job without pay.

Governor Richard Hughes is expected to make a formal announcement of the leave some time this week.

Mr. Male will spend the spring semester as "Public Administrator in Residence" at the Fells Center of Local and State Government of the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, a new chair created especially for Mr. Male.

The invitation to become "Administrator in Residence" followed a talk on the problems of youth which the commissioner gave early last fall at the University of Pennsylvania.

After the address which was reported in "Vital Speeches," the Fells Fund trustees asked Mr. Male to join the center, work with its students and write a book.

What Mr. Male will do after the six months' leave is not yet certain. It is understood that he will be host to the International Association of Governmental Labor Officials, scheduled to meet at the Nassau Inn from July 19-25. Mr. Male is past-president of the association.

PAYS VISIT TO CAMPUS

Sielski Car to Dr. So. & former Princeton University student who dropped out of school about a year ago appeared for a special hearing last Wednesday before Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. to answer a charge of breaching on the campus. V. Leonard Picard, Jr., 20, of Atlanta, Ga. was fined $10 and sentenced to two days in the Borough Jail. Forty-five minutes later, having already received a jail sentence, Picard was arraigned before a U.S. District Marshall in Trenton, preparatory to being turned over to the FBI for transporting a stolen car across state lines.

Chief Peter J. McCrohan said his department first became suspicious of Picard when they noticed his car, a 1965 Thunderbird with Georgia plates, parked a number of days on Dickinson Street. He was arrested last Monday by Lt. Francis Maguire and Ptl. John Bellor.

Chief McCrohan said, told police a number of conflicting stories. During the questioning, a teletype inquiry to Georgia authorities revealed that the plates had been stolen from a car in Atlanta.

During the investigation, Picard had been detained by the Princeton police on the loitering charge. "He had squinted on the ground for a week," said Chief McCrohan.

Topics Of The Town

approximately 60 residents of the Norgate section of Lawrence Township.

The Norgate homeowners claim that the pool represents a danger to small children from increased traffic, endangers property values and destroys the residential nature of the community.

A study committee has been organized which will present its findings to Township officials. Members include Donald Leibowitz, Donald Miller, Russell T. Slatter, Norman Goldman and Allan Taplow.

Pool sponsors are residents of Norgate, Nassau Estates and Pine Knoll. They proposed to lease the 6.2 acre parcel next to Pine Knoll which the Township has just bought for $24,200 under the Green Acres Program. As an alternative, they suggest a parcel behind Norgate homes on Glenn Avenue and Allen Lane.

MRS. McKEEVER ELECTED
BY YWCA Board, Mrs. James C. McKeever of 52 Bucks Lane has been elected president of the Young Women's Christian Association. The election was held by the executive board following Thursday's annual meeting.

Also named were Mrs. Charles M. Jones, first vice-president; Mrs. E. Harris Harrison, second vice-president; Mrs. William Bothwell, third vice-president; Mrs. William L. Tucker, fourth vice-president; Miss Ruth Vandoren, secretary; and Mrs. Leewood W. Howies, treasurer. Miss Vandoren, Mrs. James Kerr and Mrs. Charles Lambert formed the nominating committee.

New board members prior to the annual dinner include Mrs. James A. Briscoe, Mrs. Dean W. Chase, Mrs. Enoch J. Dunbar, Mrs. Fred R. Finch, Mrs. George T. Geary, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Harold G. Logan, Mrs. McKeever, Mrs. Paul Mittem, Mrs. James H. Nichols, Mrs. William S. Speers Jr., Mrs. Cona Swartzburg, Mrs. David H. Taylor, Miss Vandoren and Mrs. Jordan M. Young.

The 1965 nominating committee is composed of Mrs. Paul Bortell, Mrs. J. W. Benoit, Mrs. Frederick Burrill, Mrs. David Hoadley and Mrs. Henry Dewrey. Mrs. John B. Thomas was chairman of the retiring nominating committee. Amusing her were Mrs. John Reid, Mrs. C. Shelby Hooks and Mrs. Dewrey.

DR. MUNRO TO SPEAK

To Business Women, "Professional and Personal Development" is the subject chosen by Dr. Jeaneffe Munro for a talk to members of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday at 6:30 at the Nassau Inn.

Dr. Munro, now retired, was the first pediatrician to establish a practice in Princeton and the first woman to serve on Princeton Hospital's medical staff. She also founded the Well Baby Clinic.

Miss Louise Maas is in charge of reservations and Miss Kathryn Helm will provide. Miss Helen, president of the organization, will represent it at the National Federation of BPW Clubs' Legislative Conference next week in Washington.

IT'S NEW TO YOUR EARS

Music at Museum. Many plucked from the inventive minds of two scientists will be performed at the Junior Museum, Borough Hall, this week.

On Sunday at 2, James K. Randall of the University's music department will show how he uses computer programs and a converter to produce electronic performances of his own compositions.

He will bring the tape recordings produced at the Bell Telephone Laboratories from his computer programs, so that boys and girls can hear an actual "performance" of his composition.

Next Wednesday at 7:30 Mrs. Caroleen Hutchins will demonstrate the new instruments she has developed from her research on acoustics. She has a violin only one-fourth the size of a standard violin and a bass which is 11 feet tall.

A former staff member of the Brearley School, New York, she has studied acoustics with Fredrick Sammers of Harvard. A performance of music was expected to further instruments will be given in New York in April.

RATE INCREASE DUE

From Water Company. The increase awarded to the Princeton Water Company is expected to go into effect early in March. The new rate schedule will raise the average water bill by $1.06 per month. At a series of hearings last fall before the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners, the company reported it was losing money and had undertaken a substantial program to improve water service.

WHAT'S NEW IN READING

PDS Plans Panel . . . Five men and women, active in different aspects of teaching a child to read, will form a panel at 8:15 next Wednesday, February 10, in Princeton Country Day School.

The discussion, "Developmental Aspects of Reading," is sponsored by the program committee of the Princeton Day Schools. Fowler Macle-Smith of PDS will moderate.

Panelists include Mrs. Alice C. Packard, Riverside School principal; Dr. Catherine E. Speers, medical director of the Child Evaluation Center at the Morristown Memorial Hospital; Mrs. Elizabeth Travers of the Reading Clinic, Middlesex Hospital; Mrs. J. D. Stein, clinical psychologist, and Dr. William Moskowitz, developmental optometrist.

Parents and faculty of Princeton area schools are invited to attend. The discussion will revolve around recent thinking and work on the relationship between individual physiological development and the ability to learn to read.

Meritor Holidays Listed
Thrift motorists who always keep track of meritor holidays were reminded this week by the Borough that the new annual parking ordinance changed the meritor-free situation considerably.

Six free rides a year—That's all you get. Six other holidays are most definitely pay-as-you-go.

FIXED THE METER ON Lincoln's Birthday, Washington's Birthday, Columbus Day, Election Day, Good Friday, Veterans' Day.

DEWITT FORCE NAMED
Heads First Aid Unit Again
DeWitt Boice has been installed as president for another year of the First Aid Unit and Rescue Squad at its annual banquet. The affair took place in the organization's North Harrison Street headquarters and was marked by the presence of Gov. Rich and J. Hughes as guest speaker.

Robert McCloskey received a tie clip and cuff link set from Mr. Boice in recognition of the fact that he is the only charter member of the unit still active after a quarter-century of service. Boice also paid tribute to the late Elmer Rodwell, also a charter member, who served the organization until his death last summer.

William Rodwell, Mr. Rodwell's son, received a certificate for 25 years of service. Ten-year certificates were given to David McCloskey and Mr. Boice.

Other officers installed for 1965 were George Blum, vice-president; Albert Toto, treasurer; John Boyd, secretary; Joseph Tunney, captain; Norman Fowler, first lieutenant; David McCloskey, second lieutenant; Raymond Wadsworth, head driver.

Transfers include David McCloskey, William Reed, Arthur Sauter, John Fugill and Mr. Fowler. Raymond Rodwell is in the hospital.

PUBLIC INVITED

To Recreation Board, The first public meeting of the new Joint Recreation Board will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in Princeton High School.

A community swimming pool is to be held on the list of topics to be discussed. The Board has already set 1966 as the swimming pool year. But Borough and Township residents who want a pool in 1965, have indicated that they will attend the meeting to voice their request for a pool this year.

The Board will also discuss on Monday night the policies and procedures it wants to adopt and its operational budget.

FIVE LOSS LICENSES

For Speeding, On Police, Five Princeton area drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles, three for speeding and two under the point system.

Grounded for speeding are John H. Reed, 24, 30 Murray Place; Ellis B. Baker, 3rd, 20, 142 Henry Street, both for 30 days; and Zoltan M. Nagy, 24, Bear Brook Road, Princeton Junction, 60 days; Alfred A. Azorzi, 38, 11 Hackett Avenue, and Thomas H. Richardson, 28, 152 Alexander Street, lost their licenses for two and one months, respectively, on points.

"RUSSIAN WOMEN"

Wyman Club Topic, An illustrated lecture on "The Role of the Woman in Russian Society" will be given by Dr. Ludmilla B. Tarkewich at 8 p.m. Monday at the Wyman Club meeting in the faculty lounge of the Engineering Quadrangle.

Dr. Tarkewich is chairman of the Russian Department at Douglass College. All high school, graduate and undergraduate students are invited to attend.

UPSTAIRS VS. DOWNSTAIRS: American women, according to Miss Nancy Maxwell, are more concerned with their weight than what's upstairs. Miss Maxwell offered this observation in discussing whether American women are too concerned about their weight and dieting. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Are American women too concerned about their weight and dieting?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Miss Nancy Maxwell, Assistant manager of The Ski, 20 Nassau: Yes, they are. At least all the women I know eat too much. I feel American women are too conscious of their figures. They're more worried about that than what's upstairs. I suppose they feel they need a good figure to use as bait.

Edward Johnson, Hopewell carpenter: I don't think so — not the average American woman. Of course, some women carry things too far and make too much of a fuss about their weight.

Miss Rosemary Shore, Lawrenceville, teacher: Definitely. I think this is definitely a woman's country—I'm from England, myself. I feel American women as a matter of course want to keep attractive and look younger as much as possible. They want to keep up with the teenagers. This is true of the younger women in England but the older ones don't seem to worry as much about it as they do here.

Darcy Hartmann, The Great Road, Princeton High School junior: Yes, I do, because every single older woman wants to look younger than she is. They're jealous of anyone who looks physically more attractive. This is true not only of American women, but of women all over the world.

Jim Garrison, 1942 Hall, University student: No, I don't think so. I think the ones who are concerned about it are worried; the others don't worry about it.

Robert A. Mark, Trenton, driver for Institute for Advanced Study: I think this is so with younger women. The reason why American women are more concerned about their weight than European women is, I feel, that they try to impress others with their appearance rather than, say, their personality or their manners.

Miss Angie Nutter, 284 Witherspoon Street: Yes, they are—me for one! If I don't eat too stout, what good is it going to do? You'll get a heart attack. For mother child, their can't get anything to fit you.

Miss Carol Smith, Flagtown, receptionist for Palmer Square, Inc.: Yes, I think so. Why? I think American women just want to look more attractive. I think also the greater emphasis on physical fitness in this country has something to do with it. Not only the women but the men, too, are worrying about their weight.

Joe Lennards, 400-C Dey-

aux Avenue, graduate student, sociology: Some of them are, but only the ones who have reason to be. Generally, I don't think American women are overweight. I think German women are above average, as far as weight is concerned. In the Netherlands, where I am from girls are strongly built, but they are not overweight.

Joanne Tarabell, Bayard Lane, Princeton High School sophomore: I would think so. Luckily, I don't have to worry about it, myself. I think it can't be helped in some cases if you are overweight. The reason women worry about their weight, I think, is because the first impression you get of somebody is their physical appearance. Personality is more important but it is that first glance that counts.

Mrs. Fervine Mahmood, New Brunswick, teacher: Yes, they are. They want to look nice but they don't want to walk any place or exercise. Instead of eating all those pies and sweets and then going on difficult diets, they should eat sensibly, exercise, and let themselves develop normally. All those coffee breaks with the little pieces of pastry don't help either, but the main reason is TV advertising. They see all those beautiful things to eat and the next minute they're out at the refrigerator munching on some TV snack. They eat too much and too carelessly.

Nick Dashkewich, South River, draftsman for Porter-Mathews Co., Route 1: Yes, and the main reason is television. It's full of advertising about being popular and the way to do it is to be thin. The girls have to be shaped if they want to get a man's attention. Every woman—my mother, my girl friend—they all want to get their weight down. Diet pills, anything so they can fit into that Bikini for the summer.

Miss Joan Palmer, Nassau Turnpike, because they think they worry. They worry about gaining. They eat, they worry. Worry, eat, worry, eat. It's a cycle and I think it is mostly psychological. Very few cases of overweight are due to glandular reason.

School Unification Vital.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This will be the most important year, and the most important school board election, in the history of Princeton schools. This is true for both the Borough and the Township, because the election will offer citizens an opportunity to express themselves on the vital question of the unification of Princeton's school systems, and the elected board members will have the opportunity to accomplish or reject unification.

For the Township schools, 1965 is the year of decision, since a failure to move strongly toward unification this year would force the Township either to continue to fund a separate high school or to continue as a sending district in the Borough high school, a condition that the Township Citizens' Advisory Committee regards as unacceptable.

In connection with the election and with the forthcoming meeting on March 2 between the two Boards and the public, I would like to emphasize the following points:

1. School unification is not political consolidation, nor does it imply political centralization in any way. Voters must not be confused about this, since political consolidation is a separate and much more complex issue.

2. The plan proposed by the Township Citizens' Advisory Committee is called "regionalization," and it would provide a single school system from from throughout high school for all Princeton children. The Committee believes that a better education can be provided through unified planning, administration, and curriculum development.

3. Under "regionalization" capital costs can be provided in proportion to tax ratables and operating costs can be divided to the number of pupils. Since the Township has many more students than the Borough, this would not mean a sharp increase in school taxes for anyone, if appropriate and equitable legal steps are taken.

4. At present Township students are paying guests at the Borough-owned and controlled High School; the Township school board has no authority over High School programs, curriculum, facilities, etc. To spite of attempts at coordination through joint committees, and the like, the present situation prevents full coordination of the educational program, and it offers no assurance for the future.

With about twice as many Township as Borough students in the High School, many Township parents and other citizens feel that the Township should have a unified system, preferably by regionalizing with the Borough or, if that is not possible, by having its own high school.

5. If unification is defeated and the Township decides to build its own high school, it can do so with a relatively modest (about 3%) increase in taxes. This is possible because the Township is now paying over $450,000 to the Borough as tuition for Township high school students; this money would become available for the Township high school.

6. Nevertheless, the best solution for everyone is unification. This is particularly true for the non-college-bound students, who would suffer in both Borough and Township under a split program unless special and expensive provisions were made.

Because of the very high percentage of academically-oriented children in the Township, a Township high school could have an excellent academic program. The withdrawal of Township students from the Borough High School would significantly affect the character of the school. Again, it is to everyone's advantage to unify.

18,748 TICKETS ISSUED
For Parking In Borough.
Anyone who has the impression that Borough police write a lot of parking tickets is right. 18,748 were issued in 1964. 2,702 more than in 1963.
In an area only 1.76 square miles, that averages out to 40
more than 10,000 parking tickets per square mile. These and other statistics were released by Borough Chief of Police Peter J. McCrohan in his annual year-end report on crime and traffic.
On top of the 18,748 parking violations were 818 move-violation for a grand total of 19,566 summonses. Almost half of the moving violations were for speeding.

The number staggered even Chief McCrohan. "Think of it," he said. "Nearly 20,000
tickets for an area less than two square miles with a population under 12,000 people.
That gives you an idea of the traffic problem we have in the Borough."

"I don't know what the answer is," continued Chief Mc-Crohan. "That's a heck of a lot of tickets. Should we charge more for tickets and in that way discourage traffic violations? I just don't know.
I only know the number keeps going up every year."

More Tickets, More Money.
On the other side of the coin,
more tickets equals more money for the Borough coffers. Mrs. Theresa Thomas of the violations department reports that $61,209 was collected in 1964 in traffic fines and court costs. To this is added $16,200 collected in criminal fines and costs for a total of $77,409. The corresponding figure for 1963 was $47,728.
Not included in the $77,409 was $13,345 in fines turned over to Mercer County and $637 turned over to the state.
By way of contrast, Princeton Township, which has a about the same population as Borough, collected more than eight times as much area in its 17 square miles, collected only $9,925 in traffic fines and costs in 1964.

ago. Forty-seven minors appeared before Borough juvenile judge Howard Stepp. Of these, Mr. Stepp placed 19 on probation and warned 28.
Thirty-two were referred to Mercer County Juvenile Court and nine to other state and county agencies. Four were sent to the Anasandale Re-older, while ten were sent to Jamestown, a reformatory for boys under 16. Seven received compassionate reformatory sen-

Chief McCrohan reported that his 23-man force had apprehended speeders on 21 of the Borough streets. The largest number—118—were caught on Mercer Street. Following in order were Washington

Towards $4-65 Goal. John S. Livingston Jr., development director for the Princeton Day Schools, reports a total of $322,848 raised by the second annual Development Program during the first phase of the 1964-65 campaign.
One hundred and eight new donors are among the 234 contributors, which include foundations, corporations and individuals. The campaign ends in March.

According to Amos Eno, chairman of the trustees' development committee, almost 20%, or $60,274, came through annual giving. "At present a large part of annual giving goes to the building fund, but the rest helps fill that gap between tuition income and annual operating expenses. Few, if any independent schools or private colleges do that matter, are able to offer quality education without deficit spending."

WINS SCIENCE PRIZE
In Westinghouse Contest, David Pensak, 16, of 119 Ransom Road, has been named a national winner in the 34th annual Science Talent Search conducted by Westinghouse.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pensak, he is a part-time Princeton High School student, taking first year chemistry and second year calculus at Princeton University. His father is a research physicist at RCA.

As one of 40 winners, David goes to Washington this month to compete for the $24,250 in Westinghouse scholarships. His entry was a report on a modified method for paper electrophoresis—a method of separating and identifying amino acids and other organic molecules — which he developed as an independent project.

David is taking English, third-year German and physical education at PHS, where he ranks 23th in the class. Advanced courses at Chapel Hill (N.C.) High School before he came to Princeton, coupled with this year's credits, will enable him to graduate in June.

He is also working 12 hours a week as a laboratory assistant in the chemistry laboratories at Princeton University, where he is doing interpretive work in spectrophotometer data for Dr. Jacques H. Fresco.

The award to David brings the total of Westinghouse winners on the PHS rolls up to six. It shares the rank with the LaGrange (Ill.) High School and, nationally, is topped by only five other schools, all in New York City.

George H. Trimble Jr., of 4 Teak Lane has been appointed director of real-time computer applications, a newly-created post at Computer Usage Company Inc., New York City.

A member of the firm since 1956, Mr. Trimble has already directed a number of CUC programs written for its relatively new area of computer application. Among them are a part-mutual system to control heating windows and teleboards, an air traffic control system, a military operations control center, several programs to simulate real-time computers on other computers and a system allowing many remote users to share one central computer.

Mr. Trimble was a former senior staff member in the IBM Applied Science Division and a former member of a pioneering group of mathematicians in the Computing Laboratory at Aberdeen Proving Grounds. He is a graduate of St. John's College with a master's degree from the University of Delaware, and a member of a number of professional associations.

BUSINESS In Princeton

1964 WAS "GRATIFYING"
For First National, Assets increased, deposits totaled increased and the building project will be finished by mid-July. Ralph H. Mather, president of the First National Bank, announced these facts to shareholders at the annual meeting.

Assets increased from $50,112,000 to $54,003,000 and deposits totaled increased by $3,539,000. Most of these funds were invested. Mr. Mather said, in loans and mortgages to residents and business firms in the Princeton area.

A 10% increase in income is a result of our policy to maintain a closely diversified position on a larger volume of assets and not to effect any increase in rate charged. Mr. Mather explained. "Higher operating expenses were caused by the increase in the amount of interest paid on the larger volume of savings deposits.

"We anticipate," Mr. Mather said, "the completion of our building project within two months."

DOW JONES OPENS New Facility on Route 1

Two new buildings devoted to research and administrative personnel of Dow Jones & Co. are gradually being filled by personnel of Dow Jones & Co. The buildings are on a 107-acre site in South Brunswick Township on the east side of Route One.

Dow Jones publishes the daily Wall Street Journal, the largest volume of savings deposits. "We anticipate," Mr. Mather said, "the completion of our building project within two months."

The larger of the two new structures is a three-story building comprising 80,000 square feet, with space for such administrative departments as accounting, purchasing, circulation sales, personnel and the executive offices. In addition, the building has engineering and manufacturing facilities for the production of specialized equipment.

In the second building, which is two stories, 22,000 square feet, Dow Jones has its experimental laboratory devoted to research in the fields of communications and the graphic arts.

All departments have now moved into the new buildings, but not at full strength. By the time the new installations have been filled, Dow Jones will have about 250 employees at the new location. Dow Jones president is Edward R. Kilduff of Presty Brook Road.

BUY IT ABROAD

New VW "Squareback." Tourists headed abroad can now bring back the newest Volkswagen model, the 1960 station wagon called the "Squareback Sedan."

Princeton Motors, Inc., Route 206, announced this week that the "Squareback," not yet available in the United States is available to American tourists at about 50 European cities, including all the major ones in England and the continent. Price is $11,732 at the VW factory, Wolfsburg, Germany.

The five-passenger VW model has a 63-hp air-cooled engine mounted in the rear under the floor. The back of the rear seat folds forward to provide a flat load area about 5 feet long.

OPENS BEAUTY SALON

On Cranbury Road, Joseph Girard, formerly with Charles of the Ritz, New York City, has opened a beauty salon on Cranbury Road in Princeton Junction, next to Kraft Cleaners.

Trained in Hollywood, Mr. Girard is assisted by his wife. The shop has a colonial atmosphere and features the paintings of Princeton area artists, including Mrs. Katherine Yoder, Frank Fuchs, Mrs. Paul Schaefer, Mrs. C. A. Tash and Mrs. Lily Fox.

The shop is open from 9 to 5, daily and on Thursday and Friday evenings. The emphasis is on "YOU PAY for your TOWN TOPICS" classified ads within six days of publication, you save the 3-cent billing charge.

Mr. Girard says will be on "cage personnel service." A musician, golfer and a new member of the Community Players he lives with his wife and young son in Trenton.

MINTON JOINS FIRM

As Vice President, Stuart Minton of 122 Snowden Lane, a Princeton resident for the past seven years, has been named vice-president and a director of John T. Henderson, Inc., realtors. He was formerly vice-president of the Middle Atlantic division of Previews Inc.

Mr. Minton joined Previews in 1947. He moved the firm's New Jersey division in 1953, when he became vice-president and manager of the Philadelphia office. He entered the real estate business at the conclusion of his active duty as a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force.

PRECK APPOINTED

By Knox Stanley G. Preck of 101 Lynwood Drive has been named New Jersey regional director of Knox International, management firm which recently moved to 70 Nassau Street. He was formerly director of the $1.5 million development program at Monclair Academy. Mr. Preck, whose appointment was announced by William V. Packer, Knox president and chief executive, is a Princeton University graduate. He was associated with the Walter Kidde Company of Belleville and the Clara Mass Memorial Hospital, Belleville, where he directed $1.5 million development projects from 1937 to 1953.

He is a member of the American Management Association, president of the Industrial Chamber of Commerce of Northern New Jersey, Committee on Human Relations in Industry, Rotary and a former member of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"THERE'S NO DEFENSE AGAINST BRADLEY." That was the analysis regrettably made by Penn Coach Jack McCloskey after Tiger captain had led his team to a decisive 83-72 victory over Quakers Saturday at Philadelphia. Bradley bit on 10 of 14 field goal shots, 16 of 19 free throws for 36 points.

SPORTS In Princeton

TIGERS ON TV
From Yale on Saturday, The inevitably hectic Ivy League basketball chase enters its final month with a dividend for Princetonians. Saturday's game with Yale in New Haven will be televised over NBC Channels 3 and 4, starting at 9 o'clock.

The afternoon contest will give the defending champions a rugged assignment. In that they must play two games in 18 hours. They'll be at Providence Friday night for their second meeting of the year with Brown.

Neither of these opponents is in first division in the Ivy standings nor above 500 on the season, but both can be troublesome on their own courts.
It goes without saying that the Tigers will have to play far better basketball against Yale this weekend than they did on January 8 in Dillon Gym,
when they barely nipped the Elis, in overtime, 57 to 56.
Next night, Brown was less of a problem, Princeton winning, 80 to 58.

Yale seems sure to duplicate its earlier tactics here, slowing down action, double-teaming Bradley and doing everything in its power to defeat the Tigers in a low-scoring game.
Only Bob Trapin of the Elis is averaging in double figures, and with 6-5 Captain Don Taylor for their only starter above average height, they will have trouble controlling the boards against the likes of Bill Bradley, Bob Brown and Ed Hum-mer.

Drawn Out Race Likely. Because the schedule sends the three best teams in the race against the also-rans for the next three weekends, only a shattering upset will alter the standings radically between now and February 26, that's the day when unbeaten Cornell embarks on its dangerous journey to the Palestra and Dillon Gymnasium, where it has not won back-to-back contests in years.

Before that, however, each of the front-runners figures to dominate its home games and could get by its road contests.
Although it will be these affairs which may produce the unexpected, Yale, playing Penn and Princeton at home this weekend and entertaining Cornell on Friday, February 12, is the most likely quipster to achieve an ambush. Cornell could also have trouble when it journeys to Columbia on Tuesday, February 16, while Penn and Princeton might find more than they bargained for at Harvard, where the Tigers lost
last winter.

Zone Breaks Penn. A zone defense, which is about as unfamiliar to Princeton fans as "formation" football, is the reason the Tigers are again in a solid position in the Ivy League race. Trailing Penn by four at half-time in the Palestra Saturday and deep in foul trouble after a period of man-to-man guarding had drawn constant personal, the Orange and Black went into a zone
when play resumed. Six minutes before the game ended,
the Tigers had broken it wide open.

So many fouls did Princeton draw while the Quakers were driving down the lane in the first half that it almost seems a question whether the visitors would have enough players left to finish the game. Don Rodenbach, guarding Jeff Neumann, collected four personal in 12 minutes. Bob Harzog had three at that point and sophomore Al Adler picked up four entering the game with the first 13 minutes gone.

The fired-up home forces, who hit on their first six field goal attempts, shot a sizzling 45% in the first half. Unable to drive against the zone, their tall men bowed out from under the boards on rebounds, and virtually all of their shots coming from the outside, the Quakers faded so badly that with 14 minutes gone, they had connected on only four of 23 for a fizzling 17%.

Over that stretch, Princeton had moved from a 45-41 half-time deficit to an impressive 15-56 lead and had outscored the losers, 30 to 11. Topping the Tigers' foul problems, the only four players to leave the game were Red and Blue, and they took virtually all the Penn bight with them.

Bradley Gets Help. While Bill Bradley again played one of his finest games, scoring 36 points and directing traffic beautifully, this was the Tigers' first real team performance of the Ivy season. Best of all, it was apparent early. When Gary Walgers hit, all five minutes gone, all five minutes starters had scored. After Bradley's 36, Don Rodenbach, Neumann, and Walters also made it into double figures with 10. For Penn, Neuman had 26 and Stan Pawlak 22, but so effective was the Princeton zone that while the catenae hung in the balance during the first 14 minutes of the second half, the Quakers' two top scorers con-thunted only six points between them.

So, Bill van Breda Kolff's quietness has begun to follow the pattern that led to Ivy championships in each of Bradley's first two seasons: winning the big ones often in decisive fashion. To achieve the balanced effort and the decisive second-half rally in a vital game away from home—all the wake of a two-week break for exams—is a real personal triumph for the Tiger coach.

Ivy Games Ahead

Skaters Face Cornell, Brown. Action against the two teams considered the greatest threat to defending champion Dartmouth in the Ivy League is next on the schedule for Princeton's undermanned hockey team. Cornell will be here this Thursday night at 8, with Brown playing in Baker Rink Saturday at 4:30.

Both teams, liberally stacked with Canadians, finished January with highly impressive 11-4 records. Both have highly-pollished offensive units and capable goalies, with Brown the stronger of the two on defense. After these two, a strong Clarkson sextet will confront the Tigers next Tuesday night at 8.

Short on personnel when the season began, the Tigers have been dogged by misfortune in the form of injuries. The season was less than three weeks old when defenseman Cam McEwen was forced out for the duration with a knee injury.

Shortly after the first of the year, senior George Peterson, a member of the first line at the time, suffered a shoulder separation. He, too, is out for the balance of the campaign.

Howard McTear, a starting defenseman, has been sidelined since the middle of January by a nose infection. He missed both the Boston College and Dartmouth games last week, but is expected to return to the ice Thursday.

Third Period Costly

Against both Boston College and Dartmouth, Princeton was within hailing distance after two periods, although catching the impressive Bostonians was almost deniable. It was 5-2 for B.C. and 3-2 for Dartmouth going into the third period, at the end of the games, the respective scores were 11-4 and 6-2.

Boston College had 55 shots on goal, with Graham Flanders turning in some spectacular saves during the one-sided bombardment. B.C. now 13-3 on the season, gave one of the most picturesque performances of good college hockey seen in Baker Rink in some years.

Dartmouth took a 2-0 lead in Saturday's game at Hanover and was never caught by the Tigers, although they narrowed the gap to 2-1 and 3-2 before the dam broke in the final period. Steve Cook and Mike Peterman scored the Princeton goals.

The victory was Dartmouth's tenth in a row. The Tigers sent the Cornell game with a 2-11 mark but still give the impression that they have the ability to achieve a solid upset somewhere along the line.

PIS GAINS PLAYOFFS

Leitch Reinstated. Playing with the full services of Colin Leitch for the first time in five games, Princeton High School defeated Exum, 64-52, on Friday for the second time in eight days. The victory was a big one for the Little Tigers because it assured them of a spot in the NJSLAA post-season playoffs.

Leitch, who became the center of a school-wide controversy when he was forced off the team four games ago, marked his return by scoring 17 points. He had shaken off any rustiness by the second half during which he scored all but four of those 17.

Leitch's value to the team is attested to by the record. Without him, PIS lost four of five for a 200 mark. With him, it played at a .607 clip, winning six of nine. Concerning his return, athletic director Joe Jorgel declined to expand beyond the fact Leitch had been reinstated.

If they hope to defeat St. Albert in their next game, the Little Tigers will have to be at full strength and then some.

Both schools will enter the clash—to be played at the PHS gym Friday evening, starting at 8—with somewhat similar records, but Steiner has expended stronger teams.

In their last outing, the Spartans upset Thomas Jefferson and earlier stunned Calhedral in a bigger upset. They also own a 68-53 victory this season over the Blue and White.

Next Wednesday afternoon at 3:45, the Little Tigers will play host to Lawrenceville School. Currently, the Larries are 9-3. Their most recent victory was a 63-55 triumph over Peddie, a school PHS will meet two days later on Friday, February 12.

Underwood has 18. Against Ewing, four players accounted for all but two of Princeton's 64 points. Mike Underwood led Cuthbert, Steve Schulte, Kevin Noonan, William Noonan, Winston White, Phillip Heneman and Douglas Mook. In medley relay races, Princeton won three of four.

TICKETS ARE AVAILABLE

with 18, his high for the season. Bunched close behind were Leitch with 17, Captain Peter Heiberger, 15, and Wilbur Hines, 12.

After Leitch's jumper had tied the score at 23-all at the half, the visiting Blue and White pulled ahead by six at the three-quarter mark, although it led only 37-36 with 1:20 remaining in this round. Then in the final eight minutes of play, with Heiberger grabbing rebound after rebound, the victors simply out-ran the Blue Devils.

The PHS Jayvee team continued its winning ways. It took its tenth in 12 starts as Bill McQuade and Tom Wood poured in 22 and 17 points to pace a 72-34 triumph.

Pennington, Ewing. In successive days last week, the Princeton High School girls basketball team defeated Pennington High School, 56 to 17, and Ewing High School, 32 to 16.

Co-captain Mary Ann Cook and Val Hackenberg were high scorers in both games. Against Pennington, Mary Ann tallied 15 and Val, 14. Opposite Ewing, they combined for 16, Val coming out on top this time with 10 points.

The girls' junior varsity team also won twice, defeating both Pennington and Ewing by one point. Led by Anne Brelmatt's eight points, the junior Little Tigers defeated Pennington, 19 to 18. Against Ewing, in a low-scoring contest, Lir Hoffman scored five points, half her team's output, as PHS won, 10 to 9.

talks it over..

By JOHN F. BERNARD

It was Aristotle who said: "Six hours of sleep for a man, seven for a woman and eight for a fool." Actually the seek time for adults is about 7½ hours.

During sleep your heart slows, blood pressure drops and blood vessels dilate. However, stomach and intestines continue to function.

Sleep is deepest during the first two hours or so, but doesn't progressively shallow toward morning. In fact we tend to rise from a deep early sleep to a lighter snooze and then drift down to heavy sleep again.

Contrary to the old belief, sleep before midnight is not necessarily more beneficial than sleep after the wakening hour. It seems that sleep is sleep no matter when you can get it.

Sleep from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. can be the most costly of all... that's when we need to give wide awake consideration to the proper insurance coverage for all our needs. That's where STUBBARD, DICKINSON & BERNARD, INC. 19 Chambers Street, Princeton can be of pronounced assistance. Call 921-6880 for professional consultation.

Tap the buttons on the new Touch-Tone® phone twice as fast as you now dial.

Touch-Tone service, a totally new concept in telephones, makes calling faster and easier. You tap the buttons, and musical notes trigger electronic impulses to speed your connection. You can order the Touch-Tone phone now in a selection of colors and styles: the table model, the Princess® phone, and the new, streamlined wall model.

The cost is low. Add just $1.50 per month to the regular telephone charges, plus a one-time connection charge, and you're enjoying Touch-Tone service on your residence line—including Touch-Tone service on all extensions. To order, just call the Telephone Business Office. ☐ The Touch-Tone phone is now available to customers whose telephone numbers begin with 452, 799, 921, and 924.

News Of The CHURCHES

PEOPLE'S SERVICE SET
A special People's Service will be held at 8:30 and 11 o'clock on Sunday, Feb. 11, at the First Presbyterian Church. The service will reflect some of the changes taking place in the role of the layman.

The changes, highly symbolic, bring the communion bread and wine from the table to the altar at the beginning of the morning offering. Also, the church edifice will take place in the service, the Rev. Dr. Donald M. Melchior, pastor, will lead the service. They will afterwards serve the bread and wine to the congregation.

"This people's service," according to church officials, is designed to emphasize that the congregation is not a spectator but a participant with the pastor in the joint ministry of corporate worship.

"CHRISTOLOGY" IS TOPIC
Of Seminary Lectures. The Rev. Dr. John McIntyre, professor of divinity at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, will give six lectures on "The Life of Christology" next week in Princeton Theological Seminary.

His opening address, "The Gospel of Christology," is scheduled for 7:45 p.m. Monday. The series will conclude, Monday through Friday, with an additional lecture, scheduled for 2 p.m. Wednesday. The series is open to the public.

Professor McIntyre, a member of the Edinburgh church since 1956, is the author of "St. Anselm and His Critics," "The Christian Doctrine of History," and "On the Love of God."

He was professor of theology at St. Andrew's College of the University of Edinburgh from 1946 to 1950, serving also as the Principal of St. Andrew's for the last six years of his residence there. He has also served as minister of three churches of Scotland and congregations.

MISSIONARY TO TALK
On Baghdad School. Miss Lydia Carver, principal of the Baghdad High School, Iraq, for the past nine years, will be the featured speaker at the Second Presbyterian Church Women's guild meeting of 7 p.m. on Monday. A covered dish supper begins at 6 p.m.

Miss Carver, a native of Maryland, holds degrees from George Washington University, The College of Foreign Missions and of the Presbyterian Church sent her to Baghdad in 1946.

The high school consists of 150 Christian, Moslem and Jewish girls, an international faculty and a growing alumni body. The school is sponsored by the Presbyterians and several other denominations.

All women of the community are invited to attend. Supper reservations only are to be made with the church office, 1200 University Exchanges, and members of Circle 5 will be hostesses.

LECTURE PLANNED
By Christian Scientists.

Obituaries

Richard P. Blackmar, 61, died at his home, 1000 E. 1st St., at 11 a.m. on Feb. 11. He was a native of New York City and was a member of the Episcopal Church. He was a member of the Episcopal Church and was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Professor Blackmar was a scholar in formal university training, was editor of "Hound and Horn" from 1928 to 1934, and was a member of the American Institute of Arts and Letters.

Professor Blackmar came to Princeton in 1940 as a member of the Creative Arts Program. He directed creative writing and the Christian Gauss Seminars in Criticism. In 1943, he became the first recipient of Princeton's Rhodes Fellowship. In 1944-45 he was a member of the American Institute of Arts and Letters.

Professor Blackmar was the author of four well-known volumes of critical essays, "The Double Agent" (1935), "The Experience of Criticism" (1940), "Language as Gesture" (1952), and "The Lion and the Unicorn" (1954). A new book, "Eleven Essays in the European Novel," was published in 1955.

His poetry has been published in three collections, "The Second World," and "The Good European."

He held the Pitt Professorship of American History at Cambridge University from 1941-42 and was a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters. He received an honorary degree from Rutgers University in 1954.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Blackmar of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Leonard Golding of New York City, with whom he lived for the last seven years.
